About our charity

The Royal Entomological Society is a global charity with a vision to enrich the world with insect science.

We act as a knowledge hub for insect science, engage diverse audiences and invest in cutting edge entomology that benefits both people and nature.

We support our membership with priority access to our world leading scientific journals, our events and annual Ento conference, and regularly consult with members on strategic themes in entomology and our work.

Organisational membership

We are delighted to launch an organisational membership scheme to provide our partners with opportunities to engage with us on a meaningful, longer-term level.

Organisational membership will also give your team access to discounted individual membership offers as well as complimentary exhibition and delegate passes to our most acclaimed events and annual Ento conference.

We are keen to also create opportunities for joint projects, funding bids and other support and collaboration with a priority for organisational members.
